The hundreds who left Edwards Auditorium last Tuesday evening after the annual Inter-Fraternity Sing agreed unanimously at least on one thing. Though there were many people who did not see eye to eye with the judges, it was the opinion of all that the quality of the competition reached a new high this year.

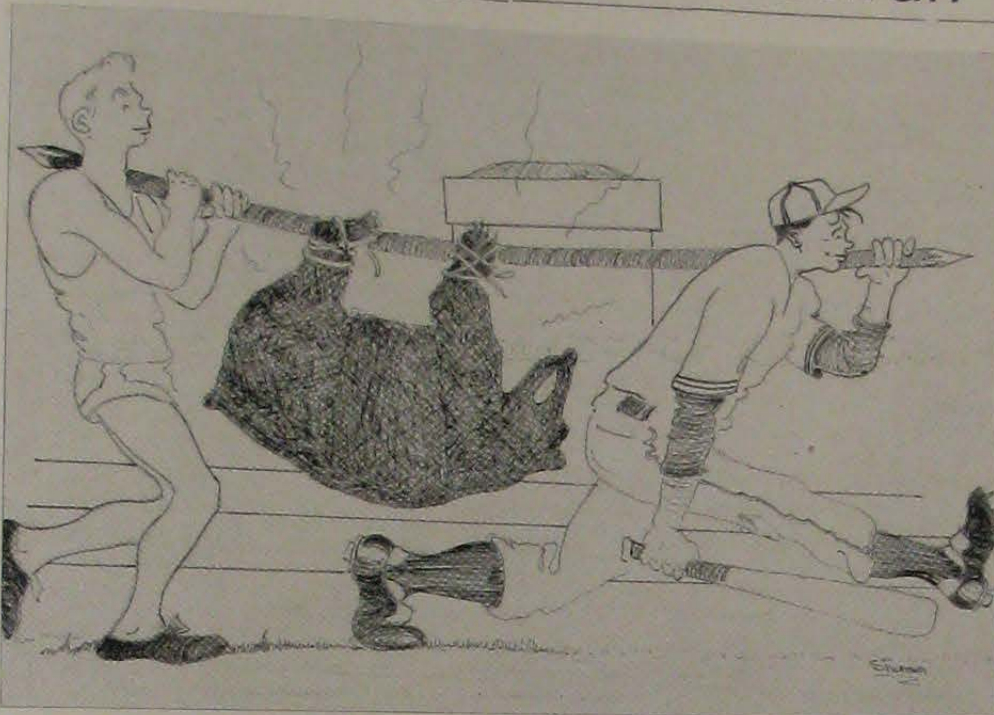

After more than an hour and a half of well chosen selections directed and sung in a most competent manner, the audience was only too glad to let the judge, Mr. Robert Yingling of the University of Connecticut, make the final decision. Some folks even wondered whether Mr. Yingling would have the courage to name a winner of such competition.

After due consideration, based not only on the quality of singing, but also upon stage deportment, leadership and quality of the selections, the Polygon Cup was presented to Phi Mu Delta. Second place went to SAE, while TKE captured third place honors. Donald Damslow of Phi Sigma was named as the best leader. The winners sang the following numbers: Love Walked In, The Lord's Prayer, My Phi Mu Sweetheart.

As announced by Jerry Freiberg last week at the Inter-Sorority Sing, each Polygon Cup will be retired by the first group to win.

Ram Invaders Sweep College Hill Clean In Double Victory Over Track and Ball Teams

State scored a double triumph over the week-end when both the baseball and track teams emerged victorious over our arch rival, Brown at Providence last Saturday. Scoring in every event, State's trackmen ran away from Brown in a dual meet which proved beyond all doubt one of the most exciting and interesting in the long series between these two rivals. A record crowd of 2,000 spectators, many loyal rooters from State, were on hand to see the Statemen romp over the Bruins.

From the beginning of the meet, with Bill Benesch winning the first event, the running broad jump, with a creditable leap of 22 feet, 4 1/2 inches, until George Bullock's final triumph in the 220 yard dash, it was definitely a day for State to shine, and shine they did.

Not to be outdone by their brethren of the cinders who were racing to a brilliant victory across the street, the Rhode Island State baseballers battled from behind to knot the count in the ninth and then pushed over the clincher in the first extra frame to edge the malicious Bears of College Hill at Aldrich Field on Saturday, 3-2, in a contest that had the onlookers howling throughout.

It was a magnificent hurling duel in which John Smith racked up his third triumph in as many outings against the Brunonians. Smith allowed nine safeties but was supreme in the pinches, aided by some timely defensive maneuvers on the part of his mates.

197 Scholars For Fall Term

A total of 1440 applications, of which only 197 were accepted and held for further consideration, have been received by the office of admissions at Rhode Island State College. It is announced by James Eastwood, director. "A year ago, 191 applications were received but this year, warnings voiced in early correspondence with the candidates stressing the importance of strong academic records, emphasizing the restrictions on out-of-state registrants served to reduce the number of applications but produced a marked improvement in the quality of the students seeking admission," Director Eastwood said.

Of those already accepted, 184 are Rhode Island residents and 13 are from out-of-state, while of the 197 applications still under consideration, 544 are Rhode Islanders while 143 are non-residents. A total of 265 applications were rejected for various reasons.

The classification of the applicants held, with the first figure representing the number accepted and the second figure the number waiting, follows: Agriculture; 12 and 26; and vocational students, 3 and 0; Business Administration, 21 and 146; Engineering, 50 and 199; Home Economics, 44 and 23; Nursing Education, including five veteran graduate nurses, and 5; Sciences: Biological, Laboratory Technology, 9 and 11; Veterinary, Zoology, etc., 15 and 96; General Teacher Training, 17 and 17; Physical Education, 0 and 44; and Liberal Studies, 12 and 45.

R. I. CLUB ELECTS HALL PRESIDENT

At a recent meeting of the R. I. Club officers for the coming year were elected. They are: Joseph Rock, SAE, president; Joseph Rock, TKE, vice president and social chairman; Nick Lombardi, Phi Mu, secretary, and Gerry Damslow, treasurer. The Club was active last Saturday at the R. I. Interscholastic meet where they were busy serving sandwiches and cokes to the many fans. Many social functions were discussed at the last meeting and a full schedule of events will take place next year.

The Kingston Kids played Swampo Brothers last Saturday afternoon with our city friends, leaving our track and baseball teams to date undefeated. Pictured above is a mental image brought back to campus last Saturday evening by the multitude who had left the Kingston Hill territory to follow the true-to-style Rams.

Weldin's Variety Store To Close May 28

There is at present an accumulation of articles in the Registrar's Office which would make a Sears Roebuck store look like a corner grocery. The unhappy proprietor of this so called "Variety Store" is Dean Weldin and the articles have all been found on and around the campus. They are now waiting to be claimed by their rightful owners and there seems to be an unexplainable tendency on the part of said owners to abandon their cherished belongings. The latest physical inventory reveals that besides numerous textbooks and notebooks, the merchandise in stock includes a camera, 8 pairs of eyeglasses plus 4 empty eyeglass cases, 2 purses, several fountain pens, pencils, keys, religious articles, 2 high school class rings, 2 wrist watches, 2 necklaces, 2 bracelets, a dress clip, a pencil case, a brief case, 11 pairs of gloves and mittens, a tobacco pouch, a miscellaneous assortment of clothing including many scarfs and kerchiefs, and a small sum of money.

Dean Weldin wishes to stress the fact that all of these articles will be scrapped after May 28. Several students have reported articles as being lost at the registrar's office before they have been found and turned in. These students have made no further check and in many instances their articles have been turned in at a later date. Owners may claim their articles by giving an accurate description of them at the Registrar's office.

Preregistration Notice

The Dean of Administration announces that its schedule of classes for the Fall Semester of 1947 will be ready not later than May 26. The dates for pre-registration are, therefore, set for the period May 26 to June 2 inclusive. Pre-registration is important. Watch the campus bulletin boards for directions on procedure.

Only a relatively small number of students have secured the enrollment form which must be completed by all students who expect to register in September, 1947. Remember, delay in re-enrollment until after June 15 costs five dollars.

SENATE OPPOSES EXAM RULING

An amazing bit of news was made public by a number of members of our faculty in their classrooms last week, and brought up at the last meeting of the Student Senate. The news and proposal to be voted on at the next faculty meeting is: that any student failing a final examination in any course will receive a semester grade of failure for that course regardless of the student's scholastic average prior to the final examination.

The Student Senate went on record as opposing the above faculty proposal ruling in regards to final examinations, and appointed a committee of three Senators to investigate the proposal. Art Kemp, president of the Senate and Chairman of the investigating committee, is empowered to call a special meeting of the Senate if he deems such action advisable. Art Kemp is being aided and abetted by Dan Cashman and Jim Pine on this special committee work.

In a conference with Dr. J. C. Weldin, Dean of Administration, the committee was assured that this proposal will not affect this year's final examinations. The objective of the Senate is that this proposal will never affect final examinations.

The Student Senate voted unanimously in opposition to the faculty proposal, and the Senate appointed committee explained this stand to Dean Weldin. The faculty is being sincerely urged by the Senate to defeat the proposal.

Another move of deep interest to all students was enacted by the Student Senate this week. This was a motion in the affirmative for the Student Senate to take action on the question of students being authorized to view their own graded final examination papers. At present there is no college rule covering this situation and it seems to be the consensus of opinion that a

Governor to be Initiated

Governor John O. Pastore will be initiated into Beta Psi Alpha fraternity at exercises to be held at the Chapter House Saturday afternoon. The ritual will be followed by a banquet to be held in Lippitt Hall.

Commencement Ball Last Social Event of Year

The June '47 Commencement Ball will be held on June seventh at Lippitt Hall. Here is your chance for a last fling before beginning the summer months of recuperation. Ralph Stewart's Orchestra, consisting of seven pieces, will set the mood of parting.

A semi-formal affair, this dance is annually popular with both students and alumni. It highlights a big week-end. Alumni will pour onto the campus Saturday for Alumni Day, indicating that the dance will give you an opportunity to see your old friends now out in the business world. The following day will feature Commencement exercises.

The time is 8:00-11:45, and the price is $1.20 per couple. No admission will be charged for graduating seniors or for the faculty. Faculty members may obtain tickets from Dr. Wilson who can be found in Quinn Hall.

PRECAUTION — A GOOD WORD

Recently two of our fraternities and one of our sororities were "taken over the hurdles," so as to speak, and the damage ranged around the $300 figure in cash, as everyone on campus well knows. Strangely enough the thieves took only money, and the general opinion seems to be that the "take" was undoubtedly an outside job. Whether that can be truly asserted is not known, for not a single clue was left for the police to work on.

The fraternities and sororities at State present a tempting opportunity to prospective "lifters," and this statement can be justly backed up by the fact that breaks of some kind or another have occurred at Rhody almost every year. And, too, just about at this time of the second semester. In view of the fact, it would seem advisable for houses in general to take the necessary precautions against the various happenings in the future.

The fraternities and sororities could be locked at a certain time every night, and to take care of the occasional late arrivals, keys could be issued to all members to prevent being locked out. This seems to be the logical solution to the problem. In the past and at present, however, different ideas and opinions have been expressed against the idea because of the added expense and inconvenience.

What then is the answer? At least locks and keys should be provided for drawers and desks. Yet it is surprising how few houses do use facilities of this kind or another. Of course, everyone does, or at least should, trust every member of his or her respective fraternity or sorority. But that is not the issue; keys and locks, either for outside doors or indoor private compartments, are of individual protection against outside prowlers.

Just take the situation for example. Most of the members of the houses sleep on the third floor of their establishments, and this floor is ordinarily referred to as the "deck." The second floor, where all the study rooms and private belongings are stored, is wide open when not under lock and key. With money, clothes, and valuable belongings hanging around unprotected, and with the front door of the house open to all, is there any wonder why the various breaks occur?

Senate Opposes Ruling

 definite rule would prove beneficial.

In a letter to Dean Weldin, the Student Senate President urged that a college rule be enacted that would make it obligatory on the part of a professor to show a student his or her final examination upon request. It is felt that such action would "alleviate any ideas regarding the fairness in correcting and grading of final examinations." The Student Senate is anxious to foster better relations between faculty and students and feels that such action will definitely serve to foster good relations.

W. S. G. A. Reception Held

A reception for the new officers of Women's Student Government Association was given by Scotty Hart, the retiring president, at her home on May 6, at 8:30 p. m.

The guests included Dean Evelyn B. Morris and other members of W. S. G. A. Council.

Scotty Hart presented Lois Kyle, the new president, with a tiny gold gavel, engraved with her initials, and a bouquet of spring flowers.

Scotty offered her thanks to the other retiring officers for a job well done in a year which presented many new problems. To the incoming officers she wished success for the coming year.

With the advent of Spring to the southern portion of Rhode Island, one is apt to see issuing from the portals of the local "knowledge factory" a stream of, what is commonly termed by those who have scouted the situation, co-eds.

At one o'clock, or thereabouts, on the good days the exodus begins and continues sporadically throughout the afternoon. The uniform of the day seems to consist of shorts or dungarees rolled to the knee and if the girl is lucky enough to have secured a man's shirt, this is worn proudly with the tails flopping on the outside. Arrayed in these beautiful togs, the bevy of beauties swoop down on the poor unsuspecting "natives" of the quaint coastal town of Narragansett.

They hit the beach amid a tumult of shrill shrieks which accompany the subsequent difficulties encountered in spreading blankets. A few of the brave even venture so far as to dive into the "briny" if they see a chance to waylay a gullible cameraman and get a little publicity for their pains.

The fine days, which seem to be here at last, have also attracted a goodly portion of this institution's population to the Meadow Brook Golf Club where you are apt to find Professor Carlson paddling in the brook in search of his misplaced shots. All apologies to you Professor. You've probably seen me there, too!

Everybody who has a convertible is really in style these days, and riding along in the warm sunlit afternoons is sheer joy indeed. Of course there is the constant danger of being caught in one of the sudden showers which spring out of nowhere. If there are ladies present at this point their ears are shocked at the profanity which accompanies the wrestling with the top. The sight of youthful limbs flashing about on the tennis courts is also the harbinger of Spring. The courts and the players are in good shape (players anyway) as those who are content to remain spectators will testify.

The only somber tone that mars this season of gaiety is the ominous roaring of the approaching finals. Conscientious persons, who are trying hard to concentrate on their "cramming," find their minds wandering off amid the shouts of laughter arising from those who are enjoying their last hours happily before enduring the tortures of the rigorous exams. However, we feel that even though these finals happen every year to mar the happiness of the Spring, we are glad the winter is over and the end of academic year is near.

LOOKING AROUND

By HANK HARPER

The local issue of importance is, of course, the convening of the state legislature next Tuesday. I shall certainly want to witness our representatives and senators on their last day of this session. One of the bills that will involve a hot controversy is the Direct Primary. I have mentioned this before in my column and it is my sincere hope that everyone is acquainted with the particulars concerning this bill. There is no legitimate reason why the passage of this bill should be delayed. It is one of the few honest attempts to gain a truly democratic method of nominating candidates for office. The Direct Primary is beneficial to all politicians and the only thing that it does away with is party bosses. The defeat of this bill would be a roadblock on the highway to real representative government. Let us hope that the two political parties can unite on this issue to give Rhode Island a chance at fair government.

All is quiet on the Russian front at present. I haven't seen or heard from a communist in days—perhaps they have all gone to Siberia for the summer.

Speaking of Russia naturally brings to mind that great "the question mark is not a typographical error" American, Henry Wallace. Last week Mr. Wallace stated that he would even run for President if it were necessary to save the country. Many thanks, Henry, but if we needed a president like you we could always elect Molotov—he has had more experience in your kind of government!

The Truman Doctrine is still creating quite a stir in international affairs. I have been picking a lot of winners in this column lately and now I am really going out on a limb. I predict that Mr. Truman will be reelected in 1948. He is like wine, improving with age. Lambda Chi Fraternity should approve of this prediction because Harry is a member of that organization.

I intended to write a much longer column this week but the time has flown by and I see it is time to leave for Taunton and the dog cases. Good luck in all your finals—comes the revolution and these will be out the window—finals that is.

Quad Quotes

Question: "Graduating seniors? What has been the highlight and lowlight of your college career?"

Joining Chi Omega was the greatest highlight of my career in college. I have been most disappointed in the campus politics here at Rhody. — Janet Spink, Chi Omega.

The highlight of my college career was being "bounced" from living unit to living unit and finally ending up in the chicken coop. The lowest light certainly has been history and its electives! — Mary F. Olney, North Annex.

The paramount of my college career was knowing all the wonderful kids whom I can call my friends. I'm going to miss 'em! Chemistry Lab was a lowlight. — Twink Revello, Chi Omega.

Moving into our own sorority house as a national sorority (Sigma Delta Tau) was the biggest thrill of my college career. My one required course in electrical engineering was the lowlight. What a mess! — Kay Markel—Sigma Delta Tau.

The highlight of my college career is yet to happen—that of receiving my sheepskin on graduation day? The lowlight points directly toward that course known as Statistics, especially when you have to take the final preceding the senior strut. — Jack Flynn, Delta Alpha.

The lowlight of my college career was missing a final exam period and having to make up the finals a semester later. It's no fun! The highlight was a night when twelve Sigmas were campused for cutting assembly. Ask any of us about the onions! — Pauline Bric, Sigma Kappa.

The day Eta Phi became recognized was my "big moment" in these past four years here at good old R. I. State College. Eating my own cooking in Home Management house—need we say what that is? — Glary Eddy—Eta Phi.

The event that I shall never forget about R. I. State is when the fellows elected me president of Alpha Tau Gamma. On that certain Tuesday night, I was late for the meeting and all the brothers were seated for the meeting. I no sooner stepped into the doorway when I was handed the gavel! — Frank J. Romano, Alpha Tau Gamma.

Highlight—A snowball fight on the Quadrangle on Valentine's Day.

Dr. Wilson to Be Next Guest on Music Hour

A small but enthusiastic group of music lovers received Professor Alfred Mosely's program on Tschalkowsky's Fourth Symphony with a great deal of appreciation during last Sunday evening's music hour. His excellent comments concerning the composer's life, ethics, morals, and philosophy as they affected his music enhanced the quality of the recordings immensely.

The final evening in the concert series presents Doctor Lee Wilson of the English Department at the piano. The program will include numbers by Scarlatti, Debussy, Brahms, and others, chosen to appeal to a college audience. A capacity crowd is expected to fill Quinn Auditorium at eight o'clock next Sunday evening.

CO-ED CHATTER

The pledges of T. A. E. really surprised us last Friday — at 8 o'clock in the morning! After fully awakening, we certainly enjoyed their breakfast and amusing entertainment. Thanks gals.

RHODY NIGHT PLANNERS

Plans to make a successful affair of "Rhody Nite," to be held at Rhodes-on-the-Pawtuxet tomorrow night seem to be well formulated by the able dance committee serving under the guidance of Ray "Beetle" Rathbun, chairman.

The dance is to be held under the auspices of the Student War Memorial Committee and the money realized from the affair will go into the fund for the erection of the "War Memorial Student Union," to be situated at the marked site near Lower College Road.

With Georgie Johnson's orchestra providing the music, and being a 2 o'clock night for the girls, "Rhody Nite" should be well worth the admission price of $1 per person with tax included.

The transportation situation has been all taken care of, so don't use that as an excuse for not attending. For those who don't have cars, buses will be available to and from Rhodes. Reservations for the buses may be made at the Student Union along with the purchase of a ticket to the dance from Mr. Chester Berry or any member of the Student War Memorial Committee. Tickets may also be secured at the door.

Kiefer- MacDonald New Strut Rulers

Ken Kiefer and Barbara MacDonald, representing the Civil Engineers, and Electrical Engineers, respectively, were crowned King and Queen of the Fifth Annual Slide Rule Strut, which was held last Saturday night in Lippitt Hall. The judging was done by the faculty members of the Engineering Council. Barbara is a member of Eta Phi sorority; Ken is a Teku.

Members of the Queen's Court were Bev Harkness, Aero. Eng.; Ann Obradovitch, Mech. Eng.; Maureen Gorman, Civil Eng.; and Joyce Ann Dawley, Chem. Eng. Runners up for King were Harold Card, Tom Doland and Al Kennerlieber, of Aero Eng., Mech. Eng. and Electrical Eng., respectively.

Music by Tommy Masso provided a perfect background for the festivities. Aside from dancing, the guests were kept quite busy admiring the various displays set up by the different departments.

The prize, which was awarded to the group having the best display, went to the Electrical Engineers for their "test-your-voice" and radar set-ups.

Punch was available in large quantities from a dam set up by the Civil Engineers; while the E. E.'s provided a powder room for the ladies which was practically guaranteed to keep women away from the mirror. Many people spent the entire evening trying to solve the mystery set up by the Chem. Eng., of the pipeless faucet out of which fluid was actually running. Other displays included a rotating propeller by the Aero. Eng., and a breakdown display of a German jet engine, set up by the Mechanical Engineers.

Biological Society Holds Its Annual Banquet

Use Anywhere—Anywhere at all! Last Monday evening the Phi Sigma Honorary Biological Society held its annual banquet at the Boxwood Inn. Many alumni, faculty and active members attended to hear Dr. Charles Fish of the Oceanographic Institute at Woods Hole, Mass., talk on Japan as he saw it while he was there during the early days of occupation.

Dr. Fish told of the effects of the precision bombing our Air Force carried out against Japan and of the work being done by our forces in conditioning Japan and its people for a democratic form of government.

Other guest speakers were Dr. Browning, Dr. Zinn, Dr. Carpenter and Dr. DeWolf who very capably filled the position as toastmaster.

A 22 page edition of the Cell, the society's publication, was distributed at this time.

Union Dance

For all the folks staying down on the final week-end, perhaps to study, here's good news! The Union is holding a gala ball on the 24th; admission, a smile. There's going to be lots of students down sweating out the last few hours before exams, hence many folks will be at the Union.

Film Pack Elects

At its meeting last Thursday night, the Film Pack held election of officers. The following were elected for the coming year: President, Alden Stickney of Phi Sigma; vice president, Paul Duchesneau, of SAE; secretary, Gordon Stott; treasurer, Philip Mulligan.

The new appointed officials are: Purchasing agent, Paul Duchesneau; dark room supervisor, Ginny Finch; print collector, Herbert Greeley.

Members of the club were guests of Prof. Newcombe at his home in Bellevue last Saturday.

Cayo Named Head Of New Operational

Coordination of plant maintenance and operations functions at Rhode Island State College is provided in an administrative reorganization necessitated by the rapid expansion of the undergraduate enrollment. The new set-up was approved last week at the monthly meeting here of the Board of Trustees of State College.

With a housing unit now operating at the Fort Kearney site, where 69 family units accommodate married students and faculty, and with the campus population at the start of the next semester four times as large as it was two years ago, the need for consolidating the purchasing and operational services precipitated the trustee action, it was announced by President Carl R. Woodward.

The combined operations will be under the direction of Edward J. Cayo, college business officer. He will be assisted by W. Robert Kenyon, whose appointment was approved yesterday by the trustees. A graduate of the college's school of engineering in 1936, Mr. Kenyon has been on the technical staff of the Grinnell Corporation and the Eastern Inspection Bureau since his graduation, except for a four-year term of service as lieutenant in the Navy.

Mr. Cayo, who was assistant purchasing agent for the State of Rhode Island from 1938 to 1942, was appointed to the college staff on April 1, 1943, and has supervised the purchasing agent's office at the college. A Navy veteran of the First World War, he belongs to the East Greenwich Post, American Legion.

The coordinated set-up, with Mr. Kenyon supervising the emergency housing units at Fort Kearney and on the campus as well as directing the technical aspects of the college's department of buildings and grounds, takes effect immediately.

Mr. Kenyon will assume some of the duties of William G. Clark, recently resigned, who had been assistant to the dean of men and housing director, as well as some of the work previously centered in the department of buildings and grounds, under Mr. Marble.

A graduate of Woonsocket High School, Mr. Kenyon belongs to the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. He lives with his wife and two sons in East Greenwich.

CHI-O HONORS MISS LUCY TUCKER

The annual banquet celebrating the 25th anniversary of Chi Omega was held last Sunday night at the Haversham Inn in Charlestown. The affair was held in honor of Miss Lucy Tucker and Ann Nixon, president of the active chapter at Rhody, was toast mistress for the evening.

Guest speakers included Mrs. Thomas Conrad, faculty advisor; Miss Natalie Briggs, advisor; Janet Spink, a graduating senior, and Mary Dohring, who was selected as the "model pledge."

The committee in charge of arrangements for the banquet included Jean Hoyle, chairman; Janet Spink, Nancy Wheeler, Ann Nixon and Beverly Hopps.

A. S. C. E. Meeting

Officers for the coming year were elected at the last meeting of the Student Chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers. The meeting was turned over to the new president, Frank Pysz by the retiring president Jack Chiaverini. Other officers elected were: Vice president, Jim Lovett; treasurer, Malcolm Austin; secretary, Sylvia Kingsford; representative to the Engineering council, Steve Hurley.

The organization was reminded of the meeting of the Regional Conference to be held at Brown University May 24. Sound movies were shown after the business meeting, and were followed by a short talk by Commander Horn.

CHEM SOCIETY

Speaking before the Chemistry Society last week, Dr. Clapp, organic chemistry professor from Brown University, delivered a comprehensive lecture on "Polymers and Polymerization."

Dr. Carleton introduced the speaker to the gathering comprised of graduate students, faculty members and guests of the Chem. Society.

In a business meeting preceding the lecture, plans were initiated for the picnic to be held in the near future.

BALL CLUB REGISTERS FIFTH STRAIGHT VICTORY; TRACK MEN NOW IN FAVORED POSITION TO COP NEW ENGLAND TITLE AT DURHAM

80 1/2-54 1/2 PROVES STATE BEST BY FAR

Outstanding performance for the meet goes to three Rhode Island men; namely Ebba Dahl, George Bullock and Bob Black. Dahl's 14.9 seconds in the high hurdles was not allowed as a new meet record because of a slight trailing wind but regardless of the wind it was an outstanding performance. Ebba's second triumph in the 220-yd low hurdles in 24.4 seconds was equally exciting and outstanding. With the winning of these two events, Ebba will be tagged as one of the big favorites to win the high hurdles in the New England Intercollegiate this week at Durham, New Hampshire.

George Bullock, who needs 150 yards to get moving, let Royce Crimmin of Brown lead the way for the first 250 yards of the 440-yd. run, then like a shot out of a gun, George opened up and beat Crimmin to the tape by a foot in what was one of the closest and most exciting races of the day. Then again in the 220-yard dash, which at the 150-yard mark looked like a clean sweep for Brown, Bullock took off and literally flew past the men from Brown to win this race by inches. Bullock's time of 49.3 seconds in the 440-yd. dash was terrific and stands as the fastest time run for the quarter mile thus far this season in the New England district.

Running a perfect race in the mile, it was Bob Black who covered the distance in the amazing time of 4 min., 20.3 seconds. Passing the quarter in 64 seconds on the heels of Josh Tobey of Brown, Black moved into the lead on the second lap to finish the half-way mark in 2 min., 11 seconds, closely followed by Tobey and Danny Cashman of State. Near the end of the third quarter Tobey moved up to Black and they both were clocked in 3 min., 17 sec. for the three-quarter mark.

Now Black began to move away from the rest of the field and it was now a race for second place between Cashman and Tobey. In the back stretch of the final quarter, Cashman made his bid and passed Tobey with 150 yards to go. But this time, Black was coming into the home stretch, where Coach Tootell slowed him down, and Cashman was nearly thirty yards in back of him. Black was the winner, with Cashman in second, and Tobey a poor third. Incidentally this was one of the very few times that "Toot" has been seen to slow a runner down. But of course, he had his reasons for he figured Bob could use a little of this energy in the 2-mile run, and rightly so, for, in just a matter of minutes, Black was called on to start the 2-mile. Most people would need about a week's rest before running again, but not Black, who had things pretty much his own way in the 2-mile and finished ten yards in front of teammate, Manny Caetano.

Another who contributed greatly to the Rhode Island cause was Bill Benesh who jumped 22 ft., 4 1/2 inches in the broad jump. Bill also ran in the 100-yard dash and like most of the spectators who saw the race, is still trying to find the winners. With no discredit to the blind man who was picking the men who placed in this race, we still are unable to see how Benesh could have possibly been left out of the first three, I guess its in horse shoes that they count the close ones; not track.

Cashing-in on the 2-1 victory over the U-conns last week is shifty Harry Donabedian, shortstop in the game. Gazing at the close play are Umpire Brady, Pitcher Wylie Loos and Third Baseman Jim Eno. Catching in the tight spot is Milt Droppo, brother of the renowned Ram-baiter, Walt Droppo.

Joe Hall had little trouble in winning the 880-yd. run in the very fast time of 1 min., 57 seconds. This is the fastest time posted in the half-mile by a New England runner this season so if Joe doesn't fall in a hole and break his leg during the next week he will be counted on to win the 880-yd. run next week at Durham.

Art Sherman looked like a champ when he cleared 13 ft. in the pole vault. Art was trying for a new meet record when the bar was raised to 13 ft., 7 in. but was unable to clear it. Sherman had enough energy, however, to take a third in the broad jump, with a jump of 21 ft., 6 1/4 in. Tom Rieley, another Rhode Islander, proved himself a comer in the vault, as he cleared 11 ft. to gain a tie for third place with Allen of Brown.

Bing Miller of State was the only man to score in three events as he took a second in the hammer; a second in the shot-put; and a third in the discus. Charles Speilberg's jump of 6 ft. 1 in. in the high jump; Danny Cashman's second place in both the mile and the half-mile; Petorella's second in the low hurdles; Britten's second in the 100 yard dash; Caetano's second in the discus; Caetano's second in the 2-mile; and Lauro's third in the shot were other highlights of the meet for State.

For Brown it was Bob Bennett and Dick Phillips who were the heroes in a losing cause. Bennett broke the field hammer record with a 179 ft. 8 in. fling, breaking the old record of 176 ft. 11 in. held by Irving Folsworth of R. I. State in 1938. Phillips broke his old record of 6 ft. 4 1/2 in. and the Brown Field record of 6 ft. 3 in. made by Donald Blount, of Moses Brown, made in 1937. Paul Flick was Brown's only double winner as he took first place in both the shot and the discus.

The summary follows:

120 H. H.—won by Dahl, R. I.; 2, Crossley, Br.; 3, Platt, R. I. Time—14.9 seconds. (new Brown Field record, but disallowed because of the wind).

220 L. H.—won by Dahl, R. I.; 2, Petorella, R. I.; 3, Crossley, Br. Time—24.4 seconds.

100—won by Dwyer, B.; 2, Britten, R. I.; 3, Barksdale, Br. Time—10.1 seconds.

DURHAM MEET FRIDAY, SATURDAY N. E. CHAMP MEET

State's undefeated track team will next compete in the New England Intercollegiate Track and Field Championship to be held at Durham, New Hampshire, on Friday and Saturday, May 30th and 31st.

The last time this meet was held at the University of New Hampshire in 1939, Rhode Island won the meet and have won five times in the last nine years. Brown has never won a New England Championship, but was tied for first place in 1899. As things look now, this meet may prove to be another testing ground for the mighty forces of State and Brown.

Over twenty teams have entered this meet with Rhode Island having the most number of entries. New Hampshire has the next highest number of entries and looks like the team State will have to beat. Back at New Hampshire are "Boo" Morcom and Ed Styra who compose a two-man track team. Morcom is capable of taking first places in the high jump, pole vault and the running broad jump, while Styra is a treat in the discus and the javelin.

Last year State did not capture one single first place but still gained third place. But this year with such individual stars as Black, Hall, Cashman, Bullock, Dahl, Petorella, Benesh, Miller, D. Hanna, Sherman and Dwyer, State will be making a strong bid to capture first place.

Ram Nine Undefeated After Wins Over Uconn, Coast Guard and Brown

With their mound ace John Smith twirling and batting with equal magnificence, the Rhode Island State diamond disciples squeezed out their third straight triumph by downing the Connecticut Huskies at Meade Field last week, 2-1. Blessed with near perfect weather conditions, the large and appreciative turnout was treated to a thrilling duel between

Smith and Uconn portsider, long and wiley Loos.

Smith retired the first 13 men to face him before Walt Trojanowski beat out an infield tap with one out in the fourth. Loos shared the limelight as he whiffed five, walked five, and, like Smith, bashed out a duo of base hits. He twirled well enough to win any ordinary ball game, but unfortunately he came to grips with one of the premier hurlers in New England collegiate competition.

After fumbling chances in each of the first three frames, the Rams pushed over an unearned marker in the fourth. Harry Donabedian walked, stole second, and raced to the hot corner as Milt Droppo fired wildly to second. Donabedian scored as Bob Ulles tapped in front of the plate.

Capable Ed Becker tallied the sole earned marker of the fray in the seventh as the Rams went ahead 2-0. Becker strolled and stole second. Here Big John rifled a single to right, enabling Becker to score.

The Uconns, meanwhile, were looking goose-egged for seven fruitless frames. The sagacious Husky squeezy played a proposed Kuesky game in the sixth with Trojanowski at bat to preserve the Christiansen's austerity.

The Stormmen broke the scoreless habit in the eighth, aided by a smile from Madame Luck. John Dziadul poked a trickler back of first which Al Palmieri misused. Loos then slapped his second hit, a single into right, Dziadul stopping at second. Stan Sorota one-based a DiMaggioan heave which John Smith cut off and relayed to Becker in time. Becker, after successfully making the tag, had the ball knocked from his grasp and the final tally of the game resulted. Centenfielder Johnnie Johnson of the Rams gained the defensive honors with two unerring throws, the first cutting down Sorota at third in the fifth and the second resultant in the ill-fated play on which the Huskies scored.

Smith and Loos captured the hitting honors with two singles. Jack Allen contributed a sharp single as did Al Palmieri, with Bill Hefferman and Bob Ulles rounding out the local hitting output. For Connecticut, Ray Legenza rapped off the sole Uconn extra-baser, a two bagger, to match one of Smith's wallops.

Rams 12, Coast Guard 0

Superb three hit pitching by Bruce Blount, Jack Helwig and Hal Malkonian, coupled with a 12-hit onslaught on the part of their mates, enabled the Ram baseballers to coast to their fourth victory in as many starts over a willing but impotent Coast Guard nine at Meade Field, last Thursday, 12-0.

Blount chucked near perfect ball in his five inning stay, a freak double that dropped along right field, marring the otherwise hitless stint. Helwig was touched for the remaining two safeties in his brief two-inning appearance. Malkonian kept the Guardians at bay in the final two cantos, the Sailors being unable to collect a sole safety from his delivery.

Meanwhile the Rams were hitting and running in grand style, tinging spree, each collecting two safeties to the chagrin of Coast Guard mentor Paul "Red" Foy. The locals pilfered seven bases. The Keaneyites were held scoreless only in the fifth as they frolicked in the afternoon sun. Their biggest inning was the seventh in which they scored on four occasions.

Thirty-three participants saw service, Mr. Keaney using 17 and Coach Foy utilizing 16 men.

Buck McSweeney, Ed Becker, and Bob Ulles paced the local batting spree, each collecting two safeties.

DAILY DOUBLE

The combination of a win in the track meet coupled with a triumph in the baseball game over our friendly or otherwise rivals of Providence was greatly appreciated by local observers. It aided no end in avenging the 19-point licking the Rodman Hallites suffered in the auditorium during the hibernating season.

The triumphs are all the more amazing considering the lop-sided comparison of the size of the Bruins and their facilities with ours. To compare the Bruins' athletic facilities with ours is pure folly because of the greater size, etc., of Brunonia.

The Bruins started their baseball workouts in the winter. State started in April, though it was admittedly cold enough to pass for February. So the Bruin trackmen have the same advantage over Mr. Bruin's boys.

The remarks of the eminent Earl Lofquist in his "Inside Out" column are most enlightening. Mr. Lofquist suggests that the legislators who turned down our gymnasium take a trip to the aged and well-ventilated barn that houses Coach Tootell's athletes during the "indoor" season. Preferably on a cold day in February.

This is not the first time Mr. Lofquist has spoken his words of wisdom in our behalf. During the winter season he cited the deplorable and cramped conditions that exist in Rodman Hall. Here's hoping for a continuance of his good work.

PUNISHMENT

While the athletes continue to spread the fame of the college, the instructors insist on punishing self-same warriors. These gentlemen are forced to make up tests, laboratories, and classes they might have missed while on trips or in competition.

IS THIS FAIR?

Not that we ask any special concessions for any athletes. There is no reason why they should be treated any better or WORSE than anyone else. Many players are loath to go on trips because of the period of tests and make-ups that follow. This should be corrected. There must be some solution. How about it?

COURAGE

The courageous game-saving play by Catcher Ed Becker in the 10th inning of the Brown-State game at Aldrich Field deserves more than just a casual passing comment. Pitcher Jim Bryan slashed a drive along the right field line and was waved to the plate. Bill Hefterman retrieved and threw to Don Fay who completed the relay to Becker. Ed was forced to trap the ball and had no opportunity to place himself against the on-rushing Bryan who bowled him over, necessitating that Becker leave the game.

Bryan was erased at the plate. Had Becker flinched or stepped aside there would have been no tenth inning, no victory.

Down the Union Way

with Ernie St. Louis

Lost any articles at the Union? Well, they should be claimed before May 26, because from May 26-28 there's to be a big "Grab-Bag" of lost articles. For fifteen cents you can make a "grab" for anything from lipstick to men's and women's sweaters. The proceeds from this will be added to the new Student Union Fund.

Well, we didn't predict the outcome of the ping-pong championship, but we will tell you the outcome. Sal Scalfani is the ping-pong champ of the campus. His very able, as well as comical opponent, Al Strekle, gave Sal a run for the title by taking the third and fourth games, after Scalfani won the first two. The last game went up and fro up to a twelve point tie, but Scalfani forged ahead and ended on the winning end of a 14-10 score.

Remember that last bus ride and party? Well, there's to be another one, with different historical spots listed. On May 30th, the bus will leave the Union at 10 A. M. and return around 4 P. M. Before then, try the weeny roast on Sunday down at thirty acres.

The intramural pool tournament will end tonight and the play-offs will be held May 26th. All captains of the various teams can check with Chet Berry and get the exact lineup.

TRUSTEES O. K.
NEW FACULTY

Appointments of an instructor in electrical engineering, two instructors in the School of Home Economics, and an addition to military faculty were approved last week at the May meeting here of the Board of Trustees of State College.

John L. Hummer, since his graduation from Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1943, a member of the teaching staff of that institution, will become instructor in electrical engineering July 1. A native of York, Pa., where he was graduated from the York Collegiate Institute, Mr. Hummer has been instructor in the M. I. T. radar school, and served as assistant to the editor of "Principles of Radar," published last year. He belongs to Sigma Xi, honorary science society, and Eta Kappa Nu fraternity.

Appointed instructors in Child Development and Family Relations are Mrs. Elizabeth R. Norcross and Miss Helen H. Johnson, effective July 1. Mrs. Norcross, who has been director of the Dorchester, Mass., House Nursery School, received her A. B. degree from Wheaton College in 1937, and will receive her Master of Education degree from the Boston University Nursery Training School this month.

Miss Johnson, who has been assistant in the Yale University clinic of child development this year, taught in the Frederick Burke Nursery School at San Francisco, Cal., State College in the 1944-45 academic year. Before then she was a kindergarten and primary teacher in Georgia. She holds an A. B. degree from John B. Stetson University and an M. A. degree from Teachers College of Columbia University.

Capt. Howard K. Welch, a graduate of the Montana State College and a veteran of two years' service in the Pacific Theatre, will join the military faculty next month as assistant professor of military science and tactics. He is now attending the Advanced Officers course at the Fort Benning Infantry School.

The Agricultural Club held their annual election on Thursday, May 15. The following men were elected to office: Walter Larmie, president; Robinson Hindle, Jr., vice president; A. W. Emery, secretary; Louis Pieri, treasurer, and James Simmons, social chairman.

The club decided on the date for their next "Aggie Bowl," which will be held on Saturday, October 11, 1947. A committee was elected to arrange the details for this major campus function. The committee consists of the social chairman and the following men: Fred Lopes, general chairman, Bruce Britton, decorations; William Lomasney, publicity; Norman Harvey, lights; Ray Hindle, orchestra; James Pyne, programs; and Arthur Anderson, tickets.

Fleas —

Ames, Iowa (ACP)—A book recently published by the Iowa State College Press has been reviewed by Time magazine. Entitled "Fleas of Western North America" it came off the press in February. The book has since attracted wide attention from siphonapterists (flea experts) and others interested in this field.

The author of the book is Dr. Clarence Andresen Hubbard, former professor at Pacific University, Forest Grove, Oregon. Commenting on the book, Time said, "A siphonapterist is among the most fortunate of all scientists; his prey is both abundant and varied. Recently the Iowa State College Press published a handsome book which proves that western U. S. siphonapterists are the most fortunate of all. With 66 genera and 230 species and subspecies of fleas, the U. S. West is indeed a flea collector's paradise."

MRS DIRECT PRIMARY IN OUR MIDST

By Dick Soderburg

"Always do the thing that's politically effective." That's the motto of Dr. Carolyn Sherman of Providence who joined the faculty as an instructor of psychology near the close of last semester. Any reporter assigned to the State House beat in Providence will verify the fact that she lives up to her motto. She's known to the Providence newshounds as "Mrs. Direct Primary." Dr. Sherman spends three days a week teaching at the college and devotes the rest of her time to her duties as chairman of the legislative committee of the R. I. League of Women Voters, a pressure group which champions honest and progressive legislation in the general assembly of the state. At present Dr. Sherman's main concern is getting the direct primary bill passed through the legislature and she's left no stone unturned in her efforts to promote this passage.

Dr. Sherman has had an interesting and varied career. She graduated from Pembroke with a P. H. B. and A. M. degree and did graduate work at Yale. She continued her graduate work at Columbia and received her doctor's degree in education from that institution. A book, "Willingly To School," written by Dr. Sherman was a best seller in the mid-thirties and was awarded the Parent's Magazine Prize in 1936. In 1944 Dr. Sherman went to Washington as a presidential elector. She was the only woman member of the Electoral College from Rhode Island. Dr. Sherman served on the R. I. Retail Wage Board in 1946.

Carolyn Sherman is primarily interested in adult education and views political activity as a positive method of teaching adults. This viewpoint explains her enthusiastic and active invasion of the field of politics. The direct primary battle is not her first skirmish. Other encounters have been the Civil Service Bill, the Juvenile Court Bill, and various labor bills. The next obstacle will be a revision of the rules and constitutional amendments of the general assembly. Dr. Sherman spends an average of twenty hours a week on political matters for which she receives no compensation. Her devotion to her duties as a citizen is commendable and should serve as an inspiration to those of us who are inclined to let political matters run their own course.

MELZER NAMED BRANDEIS HEAD

On Thursday evening, May 15, 1947, the Brandeis organization held its final meeting of this school year. The main business was the election of officers for the coming year.

The results are as follows: Asher Melzer was unanimously reelected to serve as president for a second term, Harriet Fishbein was unanimously elected vice president, Rosalea Flowitz was elected secretary, and Irwin Galkin was elected treasurer.

After the election of officers, the group was addressed by Rabbi Nathan Rosen, director of the Hillel Foundation of Brown University, on the topic: "Jewish and Hebrew Music." The Rabbi's lecture was followed by general discussion and group singing.

Through the courtesy of Alpha Epsilon Pi Fraternity, the meeting was held in the social room of that organization.

Marble Resignation

The trustees accepted the resignation of Norman W. Marble, who joined the college staff November 16, 1943, as superintendent of buildings and grounds. He had previously been chief of the division of public buildings in the State Department of Public Works. For ten years also he was employed as architect and draftsman for the City of Providence. On termination of his college appointment Mr. Marble plans to practice his profession of architecture. He is an associate member of the Rhode Island chapter of the American Institute of Architects.
